Aleeza Price will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on January 11, 2020. Aleeza is the daughter of Jeremy and Nina Price and the younger sister of Eitan Price. She is a seventh grader at Clay Middle School where she is involved in Speech & Debate, Friendship Bracelet Club, Best Buddies, and the Symphonic Band, in which she plays saxophone. During the summer, Aleeza goes to Camp Havaya in Pennsylvania, where she loves going on the zip line, spending time in the lake, and sharing Jewish experiences with her friends. Aleeza also enjoys exploring new places and travelling to visit her relatives and friends.

Doland Cromer will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on January 18, 2020. He is the son of Darren and Shannon Cromer and the brother of DellaRose. Doland is a seventh grader at Hamilton Southeastern Intermediate Junior High. His favorite thing in life is sports: he plays basketball, lacrosse, and baseball. For his Mitzvah project this year, he has chosen to donate to the organization Turn Two for Youth. They deliver baseball equipment to individuals and teams in need of it most. When he is not enjoying being on one of his many teams, he is always looking forward to his next meal. He is a true lover of food!

Zoe Zwick will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on January 25, 2020. She is the daughter of Brian and Shana Zwick and the older sister of Mya. Zoe is a seventh grader at Carmel Middle School and a Level 7 competitive gymnast at InterActive Academy. When not at the gym, she spends time volunteering at the Humane Society of Indianapolis, hanging out with friends, making stained glass pieces with her grandma, and playing with her dog and two cats.

Brody Perrin will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on February 1, 2020. He is the son of Cherine and Josh Perrin and the brother of Gabe. Brody is a seventh grader at Carmel Middle School. He enjoys playing piano and viola, and participates in the Indianapolis Youth Orchestra. In addition to music, Brody enjoys spending time with his two dogs, playing video games, hanging out with his friends, participating in politics, and engaging on Instagram and Twitter.

CLERGY CORNER

Cantor Aviva Marer; avivam@ihcindy.org

I vividly remember the experience of being a first year Cantorial student living in Jerusalem. I stepped on the plane in Ottawa, Ontario, and landed in Israel not knowing what to expect. After a few exhausting days of working out a broken cell phone, new apartment, and strangers as roommates, I finally started to settle into a new norm. It was a matter of days before those roommates became my closest friends, and my academic studies were underway.

Halfway through the year, I received a call from my conductor and mentor in Canada, Dr. Lisette Canton. She was calling to offer me an incredible performance opportunity. The Ottawa Bach Choir had been invited to perform Handel's Messiah in Mexico City, and she wanted me to sing. The choir was offering to fly me from Israel to Mexico for an intensive few days of rehearsals and performances with them. My immediate reaction was to ask her where to sign! But it was a little more complicated than that.

Sure, I felt guilty about leaving school for a week and missing classes, but I also wasn't sure about performing "Christian" music while in seminary. I approached the Dean of the School for Sacred Music and asked his advice. We chatted over coffee, and he explained something that has stayed with me ever since: "Aviva," he said, "In order to be a great cantor, you must perform off the bima so as to avoid performing on the bima."

At first, I didn't understand. Off the bima? But I always thought the goal was to dedicate your voice and performance to the bima, no? He explained that, as a cantor, my job is to inspire prayer and to lead with my voice. He told me that it was imperative that people sing along and follow me as I lift my voice to God. He explained that this means setting one's ego as a performer aside and singing the music that inspires one's community. It means finding joy and fulfillment in teaching others to join you and lifting up their voices with yours. Leading prayer and performing are two completely different actions. The best cantors embody this concept. They fulfill their desire to perform off the bima so that they don't feel the need to do it on the bima.

This whole concept was fascinating to me years ago, but it has since become the keystone of my cantorate today. As I grew as a student, it became more and more important to me to sing for the sake of inspiring prayer while on the bima. I ended up going to Mexico that year and enjoyed the experience of a lifetime. Fulfilling that part of my soul allowed me to return to school refreshed and ready to focus on my academics. When I returned stateside in 2009, I auditioned and was accepted into the renowned professional ensemble Essential Voices USA and had the honor of performing at Carnegie Hall with them twelve times. In 2017, I recorded with NBC and performed in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade with EVUSA.

Since moving to Indianapolis, I have opted to continue my tradition of performing off the bima. In fact, Cantor Melissa Cohen and I started our concert series and named it just that! We recently performed our second successful "Off the Bima" show, and are already rehearsing for our next one.

When you join us for services, please be sure to sing along with me so we can raise our voices in prayer. Also, be sure to join us on Sunday, March 1 for an "Off the Bima" Family Concert featuring Disney music, right here at IHC! Costumes are absolutely encouraged, so bring your whole family, old and young! I hope to see you all there.

As your Cantor, I can promise that you will rarely catch me in an over-indulgent moment on the bima because, as long as I am able, I will do you the courtesy of performing off the bima.

TEMPLE LIBRARY

Evelyn Pockrass, Librarian; evelynp@ihcindy.org

By now, many congregants are aware of the 27th annual reading incentive program for Jewish Learning Program religious school students. Our wonderful theme is based on "Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood."

At Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation, our theme is "IHC's Neighborhood: Won't You Be Our Reader?" The program started on December 8, 2019 and ends on March 29, 2020. Students borrow books from the IHC library, complete a few questions on a card about the book, have their parents sign the card, and return the card to the book pocket when they bring books back to the library. For every two books read, a prize is earned. Students can come to the library to select a prize on January 19, February 23, March 15, and April 19.

Why have a reading incentive program in our congregation? Books for Jewish children can be highly informative about religion, customs, history, identity, values, and much more! They also can be fun to read. Our congregation's library is a special library – our Children's and Youth books have Jewish content. If students are reading Jewish books that they have not borrowed from our Temple Library, they should speak to the librarian to earn credit.

So won't you take advantage of this special opportunity and encourage students to participate in this unique time in their lives?

Contact Evelyn Pockrass, Librarian with any questions: evelynp@ihcindy.org.

WHAT'S NEW

Looking for books on the arts, literature and/or history? Then browse the shelves for books with call numbers in the 700s (the arts), 800s (literature), or 900s (history). A sampling of selections follows.

Call #726 - American Synagogues: A Century of Architecture and Jewish Community, by Samuel D. Gruber, features excellent photographs and descriptions of synagogues in the United States.

Call # 780.09 - Klezmer!: Jewish Music From Old World to New World, by Henry Sapoznik, highlights information on the history of the klezmer movement and spotlights noteworthy musicians in the field.

Call #808 - Wandering Stars: An Anthology of Jewish Fantasy and Science Fiction, edited by Jack Dann, is a collection of thirteen short stories by authors such as Isaac Asimov, Bernard Malamud, and Isaac Bashevis Singer.

Call #880 - Tales of Mendele the Book Peddler, by S. Y. Abramovitsch (known as Mendele Moyher Sforim, the author who many consider to be the grandfather of Yiddish literature), consists of two tales translated from the Yiddish: "Fisher the Lame," and "Benjamin the Third."

Call #900 - The Story of The Jews: A 4,000-Year Adventure, is Stan Mack's graphic history of the Jewish people. Mack's imaginative illustrations bring to life stirring events and major personalities during our long history.

Call #900 - A Concise History of the Jewish People, by Naomi Pasachoff and Robert J. Littman, designed as a review of Jewish history divided into 100 sections so it is easy for readers to select what periods are of interest to them.

All the volumes above are on the regular adult circulation shelves. There are other works in these categories that can be borrowed from the Oversized section, and also books to be read in the library that are on the Reference shelves. And, for lovers of Marc Chagall's art works, speak to the librarian to peruse different types of books (children, youth and adult) that are in our collection. Happy Winter Reading!

You always are welcome to come to the Temple Library. Read, browse, borrow!

"Lady in the Lake is more than a 'weird love letter to Baltimore newspapers' — it is an earnest and beautiful homage to a city and its people." - Jen Michalski, The Washington Post

Book club meetings are at noon at IHC in Room 206. Read the book. Bring your lunch. Join the group for a lively discussion. Questions? Contact Evelyn Pockrass, Librarian: 317.255.6647 x217 or evelynp@ihcindy.org.

Adult Education Classes 2019-2020

At Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation, we strive to make the study of Jewish texts, beliefs, and practices accessible to all of our members. Committed to the principles of Reform Judaism, we offer opportunities to explore our traditional texts and customs through our modern day perspectives. Fostering Jewish identity, Jewish knowledge, and spiritual growth, along with the opportunity to socialize with other members of the congregation, is at the forefront of our efforts. IHC is dedicated to building a "congregation of learners." We invite you to count yourself among the cornerstones of our community!

Ongoing Weekly Opportunities

Torah Talk

Selected Wednesdays | 9:15am | YAC (Youth Activity Center)

Torah Talk is an informal, accessible, and interactive opportunity for adults at all levels of learning to discuss and study Judaism and its texts with Rabbi Brett Krichiver. Each hour-long session stands alone, but you may find you want to become a regular attendee. Coffee is provided. Torah Talk is sponsored by Sisterhood.

Tanakh Study

Saturdays | 9:00am | Room 212/214

This weekly study group explores the Tanakh (Torah, Prophets, Writings) from a religious, literary, and socio-historical perspective. Led by IHC clergy, the group is guided through the text, chapter by chapter, line by line, seeking understanding of the teaching for the time and its message for today.

Save the Dates

The Jewish Book of Why

Sunday, January 26 | 9:30am | Conference Room

Using each chapter of The Jewish Book of Why by Alfred Kolatch as a springboard, we will dive deeper into the "whys" and "hows" of Jewish tradition and practice. This class is for the beginner and the seasoned alike, as there is always something new to discover and share. Purchase of the book is not necessary, but suggested. Future sessions will take place on:

Sunday, February 23

Sunday, March 29

Sunday, April 26

DERECH TORAH

Debbi Kasper, Derech Torah Coordinator

Everyone should have received progress reports in December. Please be sure to email Barbara Chapman at barbarac@ihcindy.org if we are missing anything that has not been recorded.

The school year is half over and so everyone should be working on completing all of their expectations for this year. We will continue to notify you of upcoming opportunities but also don't forget, if you have not done so already, to sign up at least one time to be a Shabbat Greeter. Simply sign up on IHC's website or call the Education office to volunteer.

Join the Derech Torah Teaching Staff

Do you have a passion for a specific Judaic topic and feel you could share that with an eighth or ninth grader? Then we are looking for you! Please join our Derech Torah staff and engage with our youth in the process. We are currently looking for new topics and teachers for the 2020-2021 Derech Torah Program. If you are interested, please email debbik@ihcindy.org.

Sign up at least one time to be a Shabbat Greeter by visiting IHC's website to volunteer or emailing Barbara Chapman at barbarac@ihcindy.org.

YOUTH GROUPS

Matthew Hastings; matth@ihcindy.org

The new year is starting out with tons of fun. Check out all of the amazing events we have planned!

Rishonim (Grades 3-5): We will be going to play Laser Tag after religious school on January 12. We will be having lunch beforehand and then playing a few rounds. This event is free to members of Rishonim. Non-members and siblings may join, but there will be an extra cost. Email Matt Hastings for details: matth@ihcindy.org.

JIFTY (Grades 6-8): JIFTY is enjoying a night out bowling on January 11. We will be meeting at the bowling alley to eat pizza and bowl our hearts out! This event is free for JIFTY Members. Non-member friends may join us for an extra cost. Email Matt Hastings for details: matth@ihcindy.org.

IFTY (Grades 9-12): IFTY has a busy month! On January 20, we will be spending the day snowtubing in Strawtown. Lunch will be provided and non-member friends may join us for an extra cost. Email Matt Hastings for details: matth@ihcindy.org. January 24 - 26 is NIFTY-OV Winter Kallah! IFTY will be traveling to Cincinnati, joining teens from all over the region to enjoy a weekend of learning, community, friendship, and fun! Because of the complexity of housing and food for an event like this, registration is required. Please call 212.452.6516 or check out <https://ohiovalley.nfty.org> for details and to sign up!

BROTHERHOOD

Neal Ginsberg, IHC Brotherhood President; ihcindybh@gmail.com

Brotherhood wrapped up 2019 in typical fashion, serving food to our youngest congregants at Tot Shabbat, supporting Family Promise, and helping provide latkes both to our religious school students and the overall congregation. We look forward to continuing to partner with the clergy and staff at IHC to find new and exciting ways to support the community in 2020.

Shortly after the New Year, men of IHC will be receiving our 2020 Brotherhood Membership request. Many will receive this request via email, if your email is on file with IHC, otherwise you will receive the traditional membership letter in the mail. Please consider joining Brotherhood this year.

Brotherhood supports those in the IHC community across all stages of life, from cooking and serving dinner for our youngest members at monthly Tot Shabbats, to providing religious school/camp/youth scholarships and bar/bat mitzvah gifts for our older youth. Beyond our support for youth activities Brotherhood supports the congregation as a whole by helping to sponsor special concerts, ushering at High Holy Day services, maintaining the congregational Sukkah, and many other activities.

Brotherhood is only able to continue our support of the IHC community due to the generous donations of time, talent and resources from our members. Examples of programs supported by Brotherhood include building the annual Sukkah, creating the High Holy Day memorial book, serving lunch on Purim, frying latkes, and much more. Make 2020 the year that you join Brotherhood in supporting IHC and our overall Indianapolis community!

HIGH HOLY DAY APPEAL THANK YOU

We'd like to recognize everyone who donated to the High Holy Day Appeal. Thanks to your efforts and generous donations, we managed to raise approximately $68,000. Every penny helps us continue to promote social justice and environmental causes, create engaging programming for all ages, and carry out our mission. While we did not quite reach our goal, your commitment to IHC was truly inspiring! We have high hopes for 2020, and hope you'll join us for any and all opportunities to take advantage of your membership. We'd like to offer our profound gratitude to the following members for their donation:

URJ BIENNIAL 2019

The delegation has returned from the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ) Biennial with renewed fervor, ready to take strides in making IHC an even better community. This year's Biennial was held at the convention center in McCormick Place. Delegates were invited to eat dinner together at restaurants teeming with unique fragrances and jaw-dropping presentations of culinary prowess, and many chose to get lunch together as well, discussing issues they felt were important not only to them, but to the overall well-being of IHC. One group even met a cab driver named Haman! Booooooo!

Group members were able to go to a wide variety of sessions, discussing everything from engaging different age groups to advancing social justice. Throughout the week, music from various acts, conversations with leaders in the Jewish community, and brief synopses of issues the URJ is working on took place at plenary sessions. Together at one such session, a vote passed to support a study regarding potential reparations for black Americans.

On Friday, IHC welcomed even more delegates for the weekend, and everyone united for an incredible Shabbat service followed by dinner, a song session, and an Israeli dance lesson.

Now that everyone is back in Indianapolis, we're looking forward to hearing what everyone learned, and sharing those lessons with our wider IHC community. Thank you to those who made the trip up to the (very) Windy City to learn more about how to help your community and Reform Judaism as a whole. To those who missed it, we hope to see you at the next one in Washington, DC!

FEEDING YOUR CURIOSITY AND YOUR TUMMY

Once again, a hungry crowd peacefully stormed the home of Patti Freeman Dorson to make various types of latkes and sufganiyot while learning about the backgrounds of various Hanukkah traditions. Patti teamed up with Sheila Yuckman to present a series of events like this, starting with the High Holy Days. It was a huge success, and we're so excited to see that it grew even more for the Hanukkah session! Please plan on joining them one final time on March 15 to discuss the traditions of Passover and, of course, make and eat all of the food associated with it!

What Are Hamantashen?

Leave it to the Jews to have a cookie inspired by cultural annihilation! Hamantashen are the triangular pastries associated with the holiday of Purim, when Jews read from the Book of Esther, the Megillah, and celebrate the triumph of good (Esther) over evil (Haman, who planned to destroy the Jewish people).

This Yiddish word is pronounced huh-min-tah-shun. To shape hamantashen, circles are cut from thinly rolled dough and the sides are folded in around a dollop of filling. The cookie can be crumbly (if made with oil), or softer (when made with butter or cream cheese); and filled with almost anything: fruit, cheese, chocolate, Nutella. Did I mention Nutella? Or even savory ingredients. Traditionally, poppy seed, or mohn, was used, which some say represent Haman's bribe to King Ahasuerus or Esther's meals while in the king's palace.

Volunteers Needed for Dayspring Dinners in 2020

For almost twenty years, volunteers from IHC have been providing monthly dinners to homeless families with children at the Dayspring Homeless Shelter, operated by Dayspring Ministries in downtown Indianapolis.

From about 5:30pm to 7:15pm on the first Sunday of every month, 4-5 IHC volunteers bring food, serve it to the families at the shelter, and clean up. Dinner "leaders" are responsible for bringing the meat and dessert items. The other volunteers bring the rest of the dinner, such as side dishes and salads.

We currently need volunteers for every month in 2020!

The entire process takes less than two hours, but the rewards are great: the families are so grateful, and the volunteers have a meaningful opportunity to engage in a Mitzvah Project. It's also a great family project – child volunteers who are over eight years old are welcome!

To volunteer, please go to SignUpGenius (accessible through the IHC website, www.ihcindy.org) or contact Jackie Suess at jsuess1417@gmail.com.

Family Promise

Originally IHN (Interfaith Hospitality Network), Family Promise (an interfaith partnership working to eliminate homelessness) has worked with IHC and other houses of worship to provide hosting for homeless children and their caregivers several weeks a year for more than twenty years. The vast majority of those families are homeless due to being evicted. The 30+ households evicted in Indianapolis each day, on average, are the primary reason that family shelters in Indianapolis are always full and that they have to turn away families every day. On July 7, for example, Family Promise had to turn away 34 families.

Evictions can impact an individual's credit score and ability to find future housing. Once a tenant is evicted, the eviction ruling will often remain on his or her record regardless of whether that tenant reached a solution with the landlord. While unemployment can lead to eviction, just one eviction can lead to homelessness and unemployment.

The New York Times has reported that Indianapolis had the highest number of evictions in the nation second only to New York City, a greater number than Chicago and Los Angeles combined. Clearly, Indianapolis is having an eviction crisis.

On November 19, Family Promise sponsored and IHC hosted a program on Indy's eviction problem (and what can be done about it). Over 180 attendees heard comments from several presenters, a current Family Promise guest described her experiences with evictions, an attorney with Indiana Legal Services discussed dealing with tenants and landlords in court, and speakers from the Fair Housing Center of Central Indianapolis and Prosperity Indiana analyzed eviction statistics and outlined ideas for reducing evictions. Family Promise offered proposed legislation to help reduce evictions. Family Promise will be working with participating congregations and other organizations to have the City of Indianapolis provide legal representation for low income tenants facing eviction as many other states do, and to get the State of Indiana to modify existing landlord-tenant laws.

IndyChai Movie Night: Gentleman's Agreement January 24 | 7:30pm | YAC

The first IndyChai movie night was such a blast that we're doing it again! This month, we'll be watching Gentleman's Agreement, about a journalist who goes undercover and fully immerses himself in the life of a Jew to report on the bigotry he experiences.

"...Gentleman's Agreement is still a riveting movie, intriguing, a little exasperating, alternately naive and very sharp, fascinating for what it puts in and leaves out." - Peter Bradshaw, The Guardian

Shabbat Dinner January 10 | 7:30pm | Location TBD

Every now and then, IndyChai convenes after Shabbat service over a delicious meal. The January iteration of this event will likely take place at a restaurant in Broad Ripple, but the final location is still to be determined. If you're interested, please keep an eye on the IndyChai Facebook page and your weekly emailed update as more information becomes available. It's sure to be a great time for all!

The cost to join us for this event is $10 and includes snacks and refreshments.

Mitzvah Stitchers Making a Difference

Just a few months into the new school year, the Mitzvah Stitchers continue to create a variety of items to help others. But the hats, scarves, quilts, and other pieces we lovingly knit, crochet, embroider, and quilt do not stay at IHC very long! Since August, well over 100 articles of clothing and bedding have gone to community groups: the Homeless Initiative Program, Popsie's Pantry, the Newcomer School, Hooverwood, and Sisterhood's Julian Center program are all beneficiaries.

Mitzvah Stitchers invites anyone to join us at our Sunday morning sessions when religious school meets (9:30am – 11:45am in Room 209) or on Needle Night (the first Tuesday of each month at Discovery Commons – formerly Morningside – from 7:00pm – 8:30pm). If you are a novice needleworker, we have many excellent teachers to help you. Don't do handiwork? We are happy to accept monetary donations or gifts of acrylic or polyester yarn to help us in our efforts!

One other thing about Mitzvah Stitchers: we are a close-knit group and like to celebrate! February 23 is our Seventh Anniversary Celebration. Stop by to schmooze and rejoice with us.

To join or make a donation, contact Cantor Janice Roger (janicer@ihcindy.org) or Enid Zwirn (ezwirn@iupui.edu).

Welcome to LAF – Life After Fifty – IHC's social program for the "more mature" members of the congregation, ages 50+. Our goal is to provide you – whether single, married, divorced, or widowed – an opportunity to connect with other congregants by building on existing friendships and encouraging new ones. For more information, contact Marcia Goldstein, LAF Coordinator: LAF@ihcindy.org.

To sign up for events, go to the IHC website and click on the SignUpGenius button on the homepage. You can also contact Barbara Chapman at barbarac@ihcindy.org to make a reservation.

LAF Planning Committee Meeting at IHC Wednesday, January 15, 6:00 pm

All are welcome to join us as we plan future events. The committee meetings are always fun, and all are welcome! Feel free to bring a dinner to enjoy while we meet!

Movie, Dinner & Havdalah IHC Event Center Saturday, February 8, 3:30 pm

We're planning a wonderful winter event – stay warm & cozy while enjoying a great movie, "Crossing Delancey," and a nice dinner, ending with Havdalah. And, of course, we'll have popcorn to enjoy while watching the movie! Cost for dinner: $10.

Civil Rights Trip to the South

LAF is looking ahead to April 2021 to travel to the South: Atlanta, Birmingham, and Selma. Led by an experienced Jewish tour guide, we'll focus on the general history of this time period with special emphasis on the role Jews played in these events. If you are interested in joining us, please contact Marcia by emailing laf@ihcindy.org to have your name put on the interest list.

Sacred Partnerships: One Key to Successful Small Groups

Generally, small groups include at least three people...who commit to meeting regularly and are open to exploring different opinions and experiences... As the pace of our lives has become increasingly intense and our world increasingly polarized, small groups serve as a sacred anchor and connector through which members can discover commonalities and embrace diversity.

- Article by Rabbi Kimberly Herzog Cohen and Barbara Hyman, excerpt from urj.org

Games | Food | Auction | FUN

All Trolls, Bergens, and Humans welcome.

Schedule

Religious school	9:00am
Purimspiel	10:00am
Carnival	10:30am

Wristbands

$7 in advance
$10 at the door

For Purim this year, we will have carnival games and a silent auction as well as additional pay-to-play games. The Humane Society will be here with adoptable animals and they will be receiving a portion of the proceeds. The BloodMobile will also be making an appearance!

As always, Sisterhood will be selling their famous hamantashen (get your order form on page 10) and Brotherhood will be selling their delicious Chicago dogs and other assorted snacks.

Wristbands are required to play most games and will be on pre-sale during religious school on the following Sundays:

Feb. 2 | Feb. 9 | Feb. 23 | Mar. 1
